

GRUB GUIDES

The 14 Most Impressive Takeout Spreads for Your Super Bowl Party

By Chris Crowley

January 31, 2017
2:31 pm

- Share
- Tweet
- Share
- Share
- Pin It
- Email
- Comment
- Print

Wings from Blue Smoke. Photo: Liz Clayman

The Super Bowl is almost here, which means it will soon be time to consume as many buffalo chicken wings in one sitting as possible. If you're throwing a party in New York, and don't want to cook for everyone (or at least, don't want to cook everything), there are many, many restaurants willing to give you the assist. Here, 14 options that go beyond standard fare to offer something a little more exciting.

Where: Eli's Night Shift

Cost: $200 for six people, $350 for 12

How to Order: Email catering@elizabar.com or call 212-717-8100 ext. 9 by 3 p.m. on February 1.

Groups of six get poulet rouge wings, nacho dip with tortilla chips, chicken or steak for an extra $4 per person, macaroni and cheese, chicken sandwiches, and a growler of craft beer. Groups of twelve get all of the above plus an extra growler of beer.