

FOOD AND DRINKS

Where to order Thanksgiving dinner for your house party

Don't want to go out but can't cook in your tiny apartment either? Here's where to order an entire Thanksgiving dinner for pick-up or delivery in NYC.

The Thanksgiving spread at Made Nice. Credit: Evan Sung

Hosting Thanksgiving is just about the most noble thing you can do this time of year. But who's got the time and space to pull an entire turkey dinner out of their oven?

Leave the cooking to the professionals by ordering your holiday spread from these restaurants and markets around New York City.

The hardest part will be picking up your meal (though some can be delivered!) and perfecting your poker face while telling your guests the mashed potatoes were your great-grandmother's recipe.

Eli Zabar

From the turkey to dessert, Eli Zabar's Thanksgiving Catering Menu has you covered. Get your roasted turkey whole (starting at $145 for 14-16 pound bird) or as boneless breasts ($95 for 3lbs), plus sides like corn chowder ($20/qt), mushroom and caramelized onion stuffing ($16.95), glazed butternut squash ($16/lb), creamed spinach ($18/pint) and tons more, including pies and cookies. Or if you're not into turkey, they have a whole assortment of hams as well. Delivery offered in Manhattan until 9 p.m. on Thanksgiving. elizabar.com