

THINGS TO DO

Spring classes in NYC: Learn how to make bouquets, jam and more

By Meredith Deliso meredith.deliso@amny.com April 9, 2017

0

COMMENTS

Get schooled this spring. From crash courses in tomatoes and jam to bouquets and spirits, here's where to pick up some new skills and knowledge this season.

Learn how to arrange flowers with Eli's Flower School

Add arrangements to your home like a pro during this class, taught by the florists at Eli's Market. Working with what's new and in season at the flower shop, you'll get the basics on selecting, arranging and caring for flowers while sipping on champagne — and walk away with a bouquet. April 21, 1-3 p.m., $95; Eli's Market, 1411 Third Ave., 212-717-8100, elizabar.com