

EAT AND DRINK

Rosh Hashana catering options bring NYC restaurant eats to you

By Meredith Deliso meredith.deliso@amny.com September 19, 2017

Break out the brisket.

Rosh Hashana — the Jewish New Year — is Sept. 20 through 22, which means tables will soon be decked out with challah, apples and honey, beef brisket, honey cake and other traditional eats.

To help with your High Holiday celebrations, here are New York City restaurants and shops that are providing all the fixings:

Let Eli Zabar's catering specialist help you plan your holiday meal, from wine to entrees to dessert to even flowers. No pre-order deadline, $50 minimum, for delivery; call 212-717-8100 ext. 9,

ELI ZABAR
ESTABLISHED 1973

ROSH HASHANAH
YOM KIPPUR
CATERING
2017

212.860.0402 EXT 9 WWW.ELIZABAR.COM