BY LUCY MEILUS

Look, you can't just sit in your apartment listening to Justin Bieber's Purpose on repeat, and lucky for you, there are plenty of reasons to get out and do other things -- like eating and drinking at these new bars and restaurants that opened in NYC this month, all of which demand your full attention.

Eli's Night Shift

Upper East Side

Eli Zabar has teamed up with his son Oliver for this new craft beer bar & restaurant that's clearly catered to the younger set, which... is a difficult thing to try to swing on the Upper East Side. But the duo is off to a solid start with a rotating craft beer selection (with a focus on local breweries), shandies, wines, and craft cocktails like the Eli's Death Punch with rum, black tea, pineapple, lemon, and milk. Plus pastrami, because Zabar's.
